Creating Prime Opportunities
for Small Businesses!

We've listened to small business owners who want to be directly responsible for the success of their work and to be able to showcase their abilities as prime contractors on state contracts. The Commonwealth has heard your voice and is now "Creating Prime Opportunities for Small Businesses!"

The Department of General Services is excited to announce The Small Business Procurement Initiative, which identifies exclusive contracting opportunities for competition among self-certified small businesses – those with 100 or fewer employees and meet maximum revenue requirements. The program helps all small businesses play a significant role in revitalizing the economy by ensuring open competition among self-certified small businesses for prime contracting opportunities including supplies, services, information technology, and construction services.
